Have We a Government! The Republicans say that the main object of the war is to prove that we have a Government. It is a little queer that Mr. LINCOLN should wage an exhausting war to prove that we have a Government, when it has undisputed sway over at least nineteen powerful States and is now expending at least one million and a quarter of dollars a day. In face of such evidence to demonstrate that we have a Government of great power and resources, the Republicans say that the war is to test the fact whether we have a Government at all! Bah!

Condition of the Army.

The New York Tribune, of Saturday, says: "Though the journals very properly avoid the publication of all news which might be made to convey intelligence to the enemy, and only general intelligence respecting the movements of the National armies is made known, we are most happy to be able to assure the public, from facts beyond dispute which have been communicated to us, that at no time since the commencement of hostilities has the National cause been so strong or so liopeful as now. In point of numbers, organization, discipline and efficiency, the army of the East under General McClellan, and the army of the West under General FREMONT, are immensely superior to their highest previous condition."

Union of Parties. The Republicans of New York and Ohio proposed to the Democracy of those States a fusion of parties-the nomination of Union tickets composed of candidates from both parties-based up on the single idea of a vigorous prosecution of the war. This is a shrewd trick of the enemy. If the Democracy of those States had been caught by such chaff, it would have involved a sacrifice of principle upon those great questions of public policy for which the Democratic party have ever contended, and would have sealed their mouths against the usurpations, corruptions and maladministrations of the Republican party and those who represent it. For instance, the Democracy placed upon the statute book a sub treasury law, which has worked well, and which they regard necessary to secure a sound financial system. This law the Republicans have virtually abrogated, and they propose to make paper, pictured rags, the currency of the Government. Would not the fusion of parties seal the mouths of the Democrats against this scheme, which they regard an unwise policy? Again, the Democrats stand opposed to the Morrill tariff-a tariff-which looks to the protection of the manufacturer, to the injury of the other great industrial pursuits of the country, and which are of much greater importance for its prosperity. Would not a fusion of parties upon a single idea, force the Democracy to a false position upon this issue ? The Democracy stand opposed to the doctrine of the irrepressible conflict-that there is an incompatibility in the institutions of the two sections of the country, which will prevent their living to gether, as they have done, in peace and prosperity. Would not a fusion of parties force the Democracy into the position assumed by the Republicans, that the subjugation of one section of the country by the other is necessary to a permanent union? There is, also, an antagonism between the two contending parties in reference to the conduct and objects of the war. The Democrats believe in an honorable and fair adjustment of the political difficulties and differences of the two sections, so as to secure a permanent reunion or reconstruction of the Government. They believe that the olive branch should precede the sword, and that our Government is one of consent, not force. They believe that the emblem selected by the framers of the Government was one of design, not accident or thoughtlessness. It will be recollected that the right talons of the Eagle-the emblem of American liberty and the American Government-grasp the olive branch, while the left hold the arrows of death, signifying most clearly the views of the founders of the Republic-that they thought the founda tion of our liberties and institutions and the bless ings of prosperity rested in peace, and that war should never be prosecuted until the agencies of peace had been exhausted. Would not the Democracy surrender their views as to the right policy of the Government in the present crisis of the country and those they have always entertained since the days of Jefferson, as to the principles upon which free popular institutions are based, by fusing with the Republicans upon the single idea of a vigorous prosecution of the war, without even a clear definition of the objects for which it is to be prosecuted? Why attempt the impossibility of mixing oil and water? The Democracy best attest their sincere purpose of sustaining the Government by the fact that thousands-more than half of those who compose the army-are firm members of that political organization. When the Union and the Constitution are in danger, regardless as to who holds the roins of Government, they rush to their defense and protection. The Democracy have had no hand in precipitating the existing difficulties upon the country. While ready to fuse with their political foes against all enemies of the Constitution and the Union, they will still adhere with firm tenacity to the time-honored principles of the old Democratic party, believing its success is necessary to preserve the charter of our liberties in its purity, and for the wise and successful administration of the Government, so that its beneficence, impartiality and equality shall be admitted from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico-over all the soil which has owed allegiance to, and which has received ties, let them attest their sincerity by surrendering their political organization, a sectional party, and get aboard the old Democratic ship, whose flag has ever floated over the whole Union, and in darkness and sunlight, with the Constitution for its chart, has safely ridden out every storm which has threatened the peace of the country or the overthrow of the foundations upon which the

the War. The Cincinnati Commercial, a Republican and war print, kept standing at the head of its editorial column for some days the following resolution offered by Hon, J. J. CRITTENDEN, which received the unanimous vote of the House of Representatives except two Abolitionists, Porten, of Wisconsin, and RIDDLE, of the Western Reserve, Ohio, and recommended it to be the "Platform of the People":

That in this national emergency, Congress, banishing all feeling of mere passion or resent-ment, will recollect only its duty to the whole country; that this war is not waged upon our part in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Consti-tution, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease. This "platform of the people" was adopted by the Ohio State Democratic Convention, held a few days ago, and upon that basis, a State ticket, composed of true Union men, was nominated, but we do do not see the Commercial, as we expected it would, if sincere in its declarations, rally to its support. Other Republican prints occupied the same position, but we doubt whether any of

We believe that a strong Union party could be built up at the South, if the people of that section of the country could be convinced that there was no design upon the part of the prevailing party at the North to interfere with their domestic institutions, but that it was its object "to de fend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States mimpaired." An honest and hearty declaration of this kind by the Northern people would go far to satisfy the people of the South; disarm rebellion by removing the cause which gives it power, and thus stop the war. But instead of this spirit those of Gov. Morrox which destroys all the moral effect which the CRITTENDEN resolutions would otherwise have. The truth is, that the South, almost universally, even in Western Virginia, have no confidence in the Republican Administration. And why should they? Mr. LINCOLN had it in his power by selecting a portion of his Cabinet and making some of his leading appointments from the South-from the conservative men of the South, and by discarding party platforms and recognizing the Constitution as the only guide of his Administration, to have built upon a national party which would have been the cure for the cancer to which Governor Morron so classically alludes. But in selecting his constitutional advisers and in the dispensation of his official patronage he recognizes a sectional party alone, and he avows the Chicago Platform is the at 50 cents. higher law which shall guide his administration of the Government. -We believe that what the Cincinnati Com mercial calls the "platform of the people," if sincerely avowed and honestly adhered to would go far towards restoring the Union and the prosperity and happiness which the Union has secured to us, but we see no evidence of any such purpose on the part of the Republican leaders. We hope to have the aid of the Commercial, and the Republicans who agree with the position of that print, in making the "people's platform" the governing principle and poli-cy of the people of the North. Wood, Dear Sir-In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending to the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause nknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp was entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana, my more casual acquaintences were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance, as my more intimate acquaint I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but receiving no assurances from them that my halr could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until fortunately in the latter part of the year 1857, your restorative was recom-mended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. Itried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restorative, and as a result, have a rich coat of very soft black hair, which no money can buy. As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article, I have recommended its use to many of my friends and acquaint who, I am happy to inform you, are using it wit

A. M. LATTA, Attorney and Counselor at Law, OAK GROVE, S. C., June 24, 1859 Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir-Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the road side, from which my head received a most terrible blow, causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effect of which my hair was finally destroyed over the entire sur-face of the head. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a pro-fessional man myself; and, as I thought understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to belive produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my most sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not

Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstances, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth, so much so that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give it to you at the request of Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c., THOMPSON SUEGHNOR.

CHESTER, S. C., 30th July, 1859. Prov. O. J. Wood-Dear Sir; I take pleasure in recomling your Hair Restorative as a most excellent cure for scald head. My son was suffering very much from this disease, and after using one bottle, was made perfectly well. I recommended it to others who had diseases of the head, and in all cases it had the desired effect. You can recommend it without fear as a most certain cure for scald head. Many others will certify that this and many other cases was cured from the use of your most valuable Hair Restorative.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE McSUAIN.
